

KAISER RECEIVES SECOND AMERICAN NOTE AT FRONT

Unaccompanied by Comment from Foreign Office, Note Being Considered

BERLIN UNEXCITED OVER BRYAN'S MOVE

Friendly Tone of President's Second Message Causes Undisguised Pleasure—All Comment Guarded Against

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Berlin, June 12.—The second American note which was received by Herr von Jagow late yesterday has been translated and rushed to the kaiser at the battle front. No statement or expression of any kind accompanied the note, it being the kaiser's expressed wish that it be presented to him without comment in order that he may view the new situation uninfluenced by the opinions of his advisers.

The kaiser has displaced all other business for the time being, and is devoting himself to the American note. After he completes his study of it he will return it to the foreign office with his comment, following which a tentative reply will be formed. This also will be sent to the battle headquarters of the kaiser.

In official circles here great care is exercised to reserve all comment on the new note, although it is known that the friendly tone of the note, unexpected because of Bryan's refusal to sign it, caused general pleasure. It is also known that Bryan's resignation is not considered here as a serious menace to the situation, and that the situation in regard to the Lusitania affair is in no way changed.

Twilight Leaguers In Fast Game Yesterday

At the park last evening the Penn Public Service team, the "Athletics," of the Twilight League, started on their way toward first place when they defeated the strong West Side team by the large score of 14 to 10. Spence, Peters and Dunlap composed the winning battery while the West side had Krebs and Kelly. The electric starters had ten hits to their credit, four of which were made by Gilliland whose playing was the feature of the game.

What looked like certain defeat was changed to victory at the East End ground last evening when the Third Ward Hose team won from the Bartons in the last inning by the low score of 4 to 3. Until the fifth inning the score was 3-0 in favor of the Bartons.

The standing of the teams will not be published until after the meeting of the officers and managers of the league which will be held next Friday evening.

ST. FRANCIS HIGH TO HOLD EXERCISES

Three Graduates Will Receive Diplomas Sunday Afternoon

The Commencement exercises of the St. Francis high school will be held on Sunday evening, June 13, in the St. Francis church at 7:30. The exercises will be followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The two graduates in the academic course in this year's class are Miss Catherine Roessner and Raymond Lansberry. Miss Anna Walsh will graduate from the commercial department.

On Thursday evening, the alumni association will hold their annual banquet at the hotel Dimeling. There are nearly fifty members in the association.

The class of 1916 will entertain on Friday evening for the class of 1915 and several other guests, at a dance which will be held on the fifth floor of the Leitzinger Bros. store.

The school term which closed yesterday, was one of the most successful in the history of the St. Francis school.

CHILDREN'S DAY TO BE CELEBRATED IN ALL CHURCHES HERE

Young Folks to Give Interesting Programs at Evening Services Held for Them

Custom Originated to Interest Young People in Doctrines and Services of the Churches Finds Support Among Clearfield's Youth.

Children's Day originated to interest young people in the services and doctrines of the church, in an effort to draw from their ranks men who will be educated for the pulpit, is to be generally celebrated here tomorrow. A collection is taken, which is used in the Presbyterian church for establishing Sabbath school missions, and in the Methodist church is set aside to use in aiding young men from the Sunday school in completing an education for the ministry. The money is invested in a fund and the interest only is used, thus providing a perpetual source of revenue.

Presbyterian
In the Presbyterian church Sunday the whole morning will be given over to the Children's Day exercises. Sabbath school session will begin at 10:00. The Sabbath schools will meet in the school rooms and march into the church in a body at 10:30. Every member is urged to be present at 10:30 in order to join the march. This is the first time this plan has been tried for several years.

Part of the meeting will be given over to the graduating exercises of the primary and junior departments and the granting of diplomas. The baptism of children will take place at this service and all seven year old children of the Sabbath school who have been baptised will receive a gift from the school of a fine bible. There are 16 of these this year. The offering will be for Sunday school missions.

The exercises will be by the primary and junior departments and will consist largely of singing. The pastor will preach one of the series of sermons on "The Building of Character" at the regular evening service.

Lutheran
The services at the Lutheran church next Sunday will be as follows: Sunday school at 9:15 a. m.; preaching service at 10:30 a. m.; Christian Endeavor 6:30 p. m. and preaching service at 7:30. The Children's Day exercises which were to be held this Sunday have been postponed until next Sunday.

Episcopal
Episcopal church will have Sunday school at 9:30 a. m., morning prayer at 10:45, and evening worship at 7:30 p. m.

West Side Methodist
The West Side Methodist church will have the regular Sunday school session in the morning at 9:30 and at the preaching service at 10:30 the pastor will preach a special sermon for children. Baptism and reception of members at 10:45. In the evening instead of the usual preaching service a program, which is given by the children.

BRYAN IN APPEAL TO GERMANS

Former Secretary Asks Them to Help to Keep Peace

STAND BY PRESIDENT

Issues Note to German-Americans in Which They Are Appealed to

(SPECIAL TO THE PROGRESS)
Washington, June 12.—William Jennings Bryan late night issued an appeal addressed to "German-Americans," urging them to aid in maintaining peace between the United States and the Fatherland by exerting their influence with the German government to persuade it not to take any steps that would lead in the direction of war.

With this statement Mr. Bryan expects to end for the present his efforts to lay before the public the situation which caused him to resign the portfolio of secretary of state.

Referring to German-Americans as "fellow citizens in whose patriotism I have entire confidence," Mr. Bryan, besides asking them to use their influence with the German government, urged:

That they forget, never to be recalled, any suspicion of lack of neutrality of friendship toward the German people on the part of the president of the United States.

That they should not attempt to connect negotiations between the United States and Germany with those between the United States and Great Britain because "the cases are different."

That Germany should acquiesce in demands that have been made by the United States without condition trusting the "United States to deal justly with her in the consideration of any changes she may propose in the international rules that govern the taking of prizes," growing out of submarine warfare.

President Unjustly Criticized
Mr. Bryan declared that President Wilson had been unjustly criticised by partisans of both sides in the European conflict; expressed confidence that German-Americans would stand by their adopted country in case of war between the United States and Germany; maintained that killing of innocent women and children, either by drowning or starving, could not be justified, and suggested a change in the shipping laws to exclude passengers from ships carrying contraband or ammunition.

Children and young people will take place. The program is given below. Class service, Tuesday 7:45 and prayer service Wednesday at 7:45.

Opening song, choir; recitation, Alice Fleming; exercise, "Our Best Friend"; recitation, Hazel Mitchell; song, choir; exercise, "Our Church"; recitations, Blair Shaw, Lea Wallace; exercise, "A Bunch of Candy"; primary song; exercise, "He Must Be Very Good"; recitations, Myrtle Mitchell, Clara McLaughlin; Solo, Arnold Lansberry.

Exercise, "The Seven Steps"; junior song; recitation, Fanny Butler; solo, Herbert McLaughlin; recitation, Jean Hoin; exercise, "The Gifts of Graciousness"; song, choir; recitation, Earl Shaw; pantomime, "Let the Lower Lights be Burning"; address pastor; song choir; recitation, Naima Shaw; closing song, choir.

Eleventh Street Methodist
Children's Day services will be held at the East End Methodist church, Sunday after next. Tomorrow Brotherhood will meet at 9:45 a. m., reception of members and baptism at the preaching service at 10:30 a. m., Sunday school at 2:00 p. m., Epworth League at 6:45, and evening worship at 7:30 the theme of which is "The Grace of being Dependable."

WASHINGTON JUNE BRIDES

Washington, June 12.—Society editors are today noting an unusually large crop of capital June brides. Deception here of many officials, congressmen and diplomats because of the war situation has increased the number of June weddings originally planned for Newport or other cool resort. Some are staying "on the job" and passing unusual summer activities.

RED MEN CONCLUDE STATE CONVENTION

A Monster Parade at DuBois Thursday Feature of Week

The state Red Men's convention which was held in DuBois this week is over. With fine weather all week not a serious hitch occurred to mar the excellent program. The big day of the week was Thursday when the largest crowd was present that has visited DuBois in many years was present. Fifteen thousand strangers were estimated as being within the city on that day. The parade which was as fine as any ever seen there, had in line at least 3,000 people including tribes from all parts of the state with their bands. It was a brilliant sight to view the parade which extended from East DuBois avenue and first street to the B. & P. station with the paraders garbed in their highly colored and ornamented costumes. Plenty of music was furnished, there being eleven bands in line.

In the lead of the parade were 24 automobiles containing Burgess Haag, members of the council, the police, chiefs, past sachems, Daughters of Pocahontas, an representatives to the Grand Lodge.

Snow Shoe to Get Penn Public Power

Snow Shoe is soon to get its electrical power from the power house at Philipsburg the same as Clearfield does now. At present Snowshoe has her own power house. It is not a very satisfactory one because it is composed mostly of second hand machinery and as there are being several new mines opened up there which promise to be very large and use electrical power for transportation it is thought advisable to have something more substantial to fall back on for what power they may need. The Penn Public Service Co. plant at Philipsburg is thoroughly capable of supplying any amount of power that may be desired as they have recently improved the plant by putting in several new turbine generators.

Italian is Suspected of Wrecking Gorman House

Suspected of having had a part in the dynamiting of the H. S. Gorman home near New Washington a week ago, Joe Mills, an unaturalized Italian of that place was brought to Clearfield today under arrest by state patrolman Edward J. Hickey, of Greensboro.

Mills is charged with having made threats against James Gorman, a son of H. S. Gorman. When arrested he had on him a revolver for which he was fined for carrying.

New Fire Alarm Horn Is Heard in Ridgeway

The new fire alarm sounded for the first time this morning at 8:40, and made everybody in town jump. Those people who laid in bed longer than they should have, were awakened with a start from their peaceful slumbers by the hideous noise. The company who is putting the alarm system in says that it can be heard eight miles. It will be a surprise to everybody to know that it can be heard three times this far. When it sounded for the first time this morning the sound was heard in Ridgeway which is 25 miles from here as the crow flies. Some alarm, C. A. Anstadt, manager of the Bell telephone company at Ridgeway, who was talking to the local manager, Mr. Hinkle, at the time heard it very distinctly, in fact so distinctly that conversation had to be suspended for the time being.

Norway Suffers Loss From Mines and Submarines

(BY UNITED PRESS)
Los Angeles, June 12.—Two masked robbers held up the Southern Pacific "Coaster" near here today, and robbed 200 passengers of their valuables.

Advertise in the Progress.

London, June 12.—The Russian army in the east continues its offensive smash against the entire Austro-German front along the Dneiper river. Petrograd dispatches declare General Makensen's forces are being rolled back along the river, with terrible losses.

In the battle at Octynia yesterday the Russians captured 1000 prisoners. In Thursday's battle between the Teutonic allies lost more than half their number in an effort to cross the Dneiper at that point. A force of forty thousand made the desperate attack, and more than half of them were killed or wounded.

These Russian successes are causing much gratification here in view of the apprehension felt a few days ago that shortage of ammunition in the Russian armies might cause a disastrous series of reverses.

Cardiff—Due to the dearth of men on account of enlistments women have volunteered to act as street sweepers.

Norwich—A number of soldiers in the local hospital left for the front, were sent to the trenches, were wounded and brought home again all during the interval of nine days.

WOODLAND WOMEN ORGANIZE A CLUB

The Woman's Club of Clearfield Assist New Organization

The Woman's club of Clearfield represented by Mrs. E. Orcutt, Mrs. George Reed, president, Mrs. Charles Kurtz, secretary, Mrs. Clark Thayer, Mrs. Harry Wallace, and Mrs. George Zerfoss, last night met in the United Brethren church at Woodland a large number of the women of Woodland for the purpose of discussing and organizing a women's club for Woodland. The women of Woodland were interested in the work of the Clearfield organization as reviewed by Mrs. Reed, who gave a brief synopsis of the organization, and the nature of the work of the club. The movement resulted in the election of the following officers for the Woodland organization. Mrs. Hartman, president, Miss Mame Lansberry, first vice president, Mrs. J. T. Pickles second vice president, Miss Grace Ginyer secretary, and Miss Mabel Young treasurer. After this there were discussions as to how to make the Women's club most efficient and useful in the town. Picnic work and child welfare work as the proposed line of work for the summer were topics suggested for discussion at the next meeting.

The heartiest co-operation was manifested by the substantial financial basis the club was placed on by the contribution of a generous Clearfield friend, as well as a check for $100 from the Harrison-Walker Refractory Co.

PRETTY WEDDING AT ST. FRANCIS CHURCH

Moore-Lee Nuptials Take Place This Morning—Couple Leave

St. Francis paragon was the scene of a very pretty wedding this morning at 7:30 o'clock when Augustus L. Moore and Miss Lillie Bertram Lee, daughter of A. W. Lee, were united in marriage by Father M. A. Ryan. B. Leslie Wallace, a brother in law of the groom acted as best man and Miss Mary Lee was the bride's maid.

The bride, who is a beautiful and accomplished young woman, wore a sand colored corduroy traveling suit and carried a bouquet of orchids.

There were present the immediate families and relatives.

After a sumptuous wedding breakfast, the happy couple left in an automobile for Tyrone from where they took a train for eastern cities.

Mr. Moore has been engaged in the insurance business here for a number of years being a partner with John B. McGrath.

(BY UNITED PRESS)
London, June 12.—German submarine attacks in the war zone resulted in the sinking of several more British merchantmen within the past 24 hours. The first reported to the admiralty today was the Grimsby trawler Waago. The crew of that vessel was landed at Liverpool.

(BY UNITED PRESS)
London, June 12.—Along the Austro-Italian frontier the principal theatre is now centered about Goritz, where a sanguinary struggle is being waged. The Italians are within six miles of the city, upon which they are gradually forcing back the Austrians. The hardest fighting is taking place to the eastward of the city, and the Italian commander has reported that he will invest it within a few days.

What Are They Trying to Prove?

The liquor interests are sitting on the house-tops and yelling from dawn
to daylight that Kansas shows up badly
in the matter of savings banks deposits.

It does; there are very few savings banks in Kansas.

But what are these people trying to prove? That Kansas is hard up for money and has but little wealth?

If so, why do they not state the fact, just revealed by a Census Bulletin, that Kansas has $300 per capita in excess of the per capita wealth of any other state in the Union?

Kansas has too many dandelions for her own good, which we presume proves that her people are given to insanity. They say that her hounddogs are greatly troubled by fleas,

which we presume is sure evidence that the people of the license state
of Indiana are much less given to divorce. The trees in Topeka are badly troubled with canker-worms, which establishes beyond the least doubt that Kansas people don't go to church.

The beer and whisky makers seem to be afflicted with the firm conviction that the people of the United States are all fools. At least, this appears to be the case when they advance their arguments against prohibition in Kansas.

Look the Question in the Eye

Let us look this question squarely
in the eye.

Does the liquor traffic pay the
United States?

Does it pay financially?

Does it pay commercially?

Does it pay industrially?

Does it pay physically?

Does it pay mentally?

Does it pay morally?

What single good thing can be said
for the trade in liquors or the habit of drinking alcohol?

Nothing?

Then why not kill the traffic without further delay?

If we cannot kill it let us hang our heads in bitter humiliation, for it is greater than we.

If we can kill it then in God's name
let us do it!

Is Beer Responsible For the Lusitania?

The German, as we know him, is not a barbarian. He doesn't lust after the blood of women and babies. He is usually a kindly fellow of much intelligence.

But he has one grave fault, and that is an inability to understand his fellowmen, a lack of mental facility,
a lack of power to adapt himself to
people and circumstances.

Why is this?

Psychologists tell us that the drinking of much beer has exactly this effect upon the mental process.

The men who are in control of the German government fail to see the Lusitania incident as we see it. If,
for long generations, meat and malt
had not preyed upon their brains, is it not possible that they might have added to their other good qualities the ability to judge from standpoints other than their own?

The English are making their brains in beer and we are soaking
our brains in beer. May we not expect the same result?

eland naval training station.

ORANGE DISHES.

Oranges are adapted to many dishes,
as well as drinks; they make good
soup, puddings, salads
and desserts, not to mention cakes and cake
fillings. Oranges sliced
and sprinkled with sugar are a delicious sauce
to serve with cake and will thus take the place
of a dessert.

Combined with stale cake and custard oranges form a most delicious
dessert.
Orangeade.—Take two cupsful of orange juice, add 1½ cupsful of sugar,
one cupful of strained cranberry sauce
and two quarts of water. Boil the sugar and water together for five minutes, then cool and add the strained juice. Garnish the glass with a thin slice of orange or a bit of the peel hung on the edge of the glass.

Orange Puffs.—Take a cupful of flour, and a half cupful of sugar, a half cupful of milk; sift with the flour
a teaspoonful of baking powder with a half teaspoonful of salt, add one egg, beaten, add one tablespoonful of melted butter, flavor with the grated rind of an orange. Steam in buttered sups 25 minutes and serve with orange sauce.

Orange Sauce.—The juice of two oranges, one cup of boiling water, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, two tea-spoonfuls of cornstarch, four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Mix the sugar
and cornstarch and add the water,
cook until the starch is well cooked;
add a tablespoonful of butter and the orange juice with a little grated rind.

Orange Salad.—Serve neat slices of orange on lettuce with a dressing of oil and vinegar. This is especially good with game. Another nice way to serve it is in overlapping slices on a long salad dish garnished with candied cherries. Oranges and grapes
with a bit of pineapple is another fine combination for a fruit salad. Sponge cake flavored with orange and served with an orange filling, then frosted
with an icing flavored with lemon juice and orange rind is a delicious
dessert.

War Oddities

London.—When early morning guns were fired in St. James park in ce-beds, according to an estimate made public today.

London.—An army chaplain acting

The Goodrich National Touring bureau has prepared complete route descriptions and transcontinental books covering all of the recommended lateral highways from coast to coast, which can be procured gratis from automobile clubs or through local garages.

DUBOIS FIRM GETS CONTRACT FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL PLANS

Harrington and Howard Chosen by School Board at Meeting Held Friday Night

Young Architects Have Designed Many School Buildings in Pennsylvania. Work on New School Here to Begin Before End of Year.

The school board held a special meeting last night for the purpose of selecting an architect to furnish the plans for the new school building. Harrington and Howard of DuBois were the ones chosen. Harrington and Howard are the architects who planned the DuBois high school, the Punxsutawney high school, and many other worthy buildings about this section.

The plans are to be for a two story brick building, which is to contain 12 room and an auditorium, commodious halls and a manual training, physics and chemical laboratories, domestic science department, music and reading room and an office. It will be approximately 165 feet wide in front and 125 feet in depth. The building when it is completed is to cost between $75,000 and $80,000. The plans will not be completed for about a month, after which they will be submitted to the contractors for bids.

In the meantime, while the plans are being made the directors will determine where the building is to be located. No site has been chosen yet but there are several that are favored. It is the purpose of the directors to have the work on the building begun in the fall. It will take probably a year to complete the building.

FISH FARMING NEW INDUSTRY

Method of Livelihood That is Beginning to Attract a Good Deal of Attention.

A new method of livelihood, as well as a new method of living, is afforded by fish farming, which is a rapidly growing industry. It may be a lazy man's job, but for development beyond an addition to the family living, of course, it takes time and attention. A running stream or an acre of pond can be made to earn more money than a well-tilled five-acre farm, says the People's Magazine. The national government, as well as many states through their fish commissions, not only gives free instructions in fish farming, but will also supply the young fish or eggs most likely to thrive best in the locality. But best of all perhaps is the recognition that farmers all over the country are coming to, that a private fish pond is a splendid source of food supply. It was not long ago when such a thing had not been thought of. Now generally there is a comprehension that such a private pond costs little to maintain, and is almost sure to furnish far more fish than any one family can eat. The demand for fish adapted to this kind of pond culture is greater than the supply, and farmers enterprising enough to have ponds have no difficulty in selling the product. Many farmers sell eggs as well as fish to other farmers and to the governments of state and nation. Private fishing clubs are a great aid in the same way. Fish can be shipped anywhere if they are kept cool and moist, and this makes it easy to find a market almost boundless in extent. But fish, of course, are subject to diseases that at times cause large losses, and the official fish service is at work constantly finding out these diseases and their remedies. Most of these diseases, it is said, come through impure water caused by contaminated streams. If the water is kept pure, the fish farmer has little cause for worry as to his "crop."

SUPERIOR TO NATURAL ICE

Many Reasons Why the Artificial Product Has Advantages—Is More Sanitary.

Artificial ice made from distilled water, in a cleanly way, is free from disease germs; the same cannot be said of natural ice produced from waters of varying degrees of purity. There has been a too-common impression that water purifies itself in freezing, and even that ice made from polluted sources is sterile, and therefore safe. It is true that freezing eliminates many of the impurities. As the temperature falls in the quiet winter nights and the sheet of crystal forms, the impurities, the organic matter, the mineral salts, the bacteria are thrust downward. But the elimination is not complete.

For two reasons ice made from polluted water is itself likely to be polluted. First, certain quantities of the foreign substances in the water, small, it is true, but none the less objectionable, are frozen into the ice. Second, ice is usually formed by alternate freezes and thaws through the early winter, followed by continued cold weather that finally closes the lake or river. The ice that is cut out includes, therefore, a certain amount of snow-ice or surface ice that has had no opportunity to eliminate its impurities, and retains everything that contaminated the water of which it was made.—The Companion.

SUFFRAGISTS PLAN IMPORTANT MEETING

Plans for Summer to be Discussed at "Y" Monday

There will be an important meeting of the Clearfield Woman's Suffrage association at the Y. M. C. A. next Monday night at 8 o'clock, when matters of great importance will be discussed. Plans for the summer and fall campaigns will be decided upon, and the question of having Dr. Anna Shaw visit Clearfield to address the association will be taken up. The chairman urges every member to be present.

Public is Invited

The public is cordially invited to attend the F. O. E. memorial exercises at the opera house tomorrow afternoon.

"Y" is Housecleaning

The work of repairing, repainting and cleaning in general is going along industriously at the Y. M. C. A. under the direction of Secretary Lewis.

Entertained Class

Miss Isabel Powell entertained her Sunday school class last night at her home on South Second street. There were about twenty in attendance and every one had a delightful time.

To Build Tenements

The Peale coal operations at Bald Hill are planning to build 35 or 40 tenement houses this summer. The contract for them has not been awarded yet.

Stockholders' Meeting

The annual stockholders' meeting of the Huntingdon and Clearfield Telephone Co., was held in the local business office here yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All the officers for the past year were reelected.

INVISIBLE INKS ARE MANY

The Two Simplest Are Milk and Water—Chemical Substances That May Be Employed.

It is strange that two separate cases—one a military case and the other a domestic one—should bring the out-of-the-way subject of invisible ink before the British public, says the Manchester Guardian. In more romantic days (not so very long ago) invisible ink was a favorite precaution of sentimental youth—usually, of course, a quite unnecessary precaution. The two simplest and handiest invisible inks are milk and water. If you write your letter with a clean pen in milk it will dry off quite invisibly. But the writing will show up in a faint brown when it is toasted at the fire. If you write in water the way to make the writing visible is to sprinkle the sheet with fine coal dust or powdered charcoal.

There are, besides, various chemical invisible inks. A weak solution of cobalt used as ink remains invisible until the paper is heated, when it shows up red. The red can be changed to green by steaming it or breathing on it. A solution of salts of lead or bismuth makes an invisible ink which shows up black when treated with sulphuretted hydrogen. Another recipe is to write in a weak solution of tannic acid. When dipped in a bath of persulfate of iron the writing comes out black.

Mr. and Mrs. Mead Cover made a short visit with Mrs. Clara Thompson this week leaving yesterday morning for Phillipsburg.

The marriage of Miss Florence Willets Mosford, daughter of Henry Mosford, of Ardmore, Pa., to Benjamin Duncan Mosser was celebrated Wednesday, June 9. Mr. Mosser was formerly a Curwensville resident and was very popular with the young set in both Clearfield and Curwensville.

L. H. Bigler transacted business in Clearfield yesterday afternoon.

One hundred and eighteen Red Men represented Curwensville at the state convention in DuBois this week.

The Pennsylvania railroad water tower at the foot of Thompson street has been repaired.

The Curwensville school board is advertising for bids for the construction of a new two story four room school building to be erected in South Curwensville. The new building will cost about $10,000. Julian Milliron, of Hollidaysburg, is the architect.

Calvin Gardner spent yesterday afternoon in Clearfield.

Mrs. J. E. Fross has returned from a visit in Big Run and DuBois.

Mrs. M. F. Karstetter and Miss Sarah Karstetter spent yesterday afternoon in Clearfield.

Lesson XI.—Second Quarter, For June 13, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Ps. xxxiii.—Memory Verse, 5.—Golden Text, Ps. xxxiii, 1. Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

It is certainly restful and most refreshing to turn from the record of sin, as in the last lesson, to this record of sin forgiven and to hear the Spirit of the Lord through David tell of this great blessedness. Nathan said to David, "The Lord hath put away thy sin: . . . bowbait by this deed thou hast given great occasion to the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme" (II Sam. xii, 13, 14), and they have been blaspheming ever since. There is forgiveness for the sinner, but it is an awful thing to be a stumbling block in the way of others. It is beautiful to read of such a sinner as David as "the anointed of the God of Jacob and the sweet psalmist of Israel." The title, "God of Jacob," is to me a most wonderful name and gives me great encouragement.

As to the psalms of David, see how he gives God all the glory, "The Spirit of the Lord spoke by me, and His word was in my tongue" (II Sam. xxiii, 1, 2). There can be no doubt that the Lord wrote through him all the psalms attributed to him and many of the others. Our Lord Jesus spoke of him as writing the One Hundred and Tenth (Matt. xxii, 41-45). The apostles spoke of him as the author of the Sixteenth, the Second and others (Acts ii, 30, 31; iv, 25, 26; xiii, 32-37). Paul refers to our present lesson as coming through David in Rom. iv, 5-8. This is the second psalm beginning with the word "blessed," and it is a psalm of word meaning literally "Oh, the blessings!"

Spurgeon says that it means double joys, bundles of happiness, mountains of delight. There can be no real blessedness till we know our sins forgiven, and the gospel that does not proclaim the forgiveness of sins is not the gospel of God, for that gospel says, "Through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins, and by Him all that believe are justified from all things" (Acts xiii, 38, 39; Rom. iii, 24).

In verses 1, 2, 5, there are four different words used concerning our guilt—transgression, sin, iniquity, guilt—and Dr. Adam Clarke says that the first means passing a boundary or doing what is forbidden; the second means missing a mark or not doing what is commanded; the third means what is morally wrong, contrary to equity; the fourth signifies fraud or deceit. To remove these evils three acts are mentioned—forgiving, covering, not imputing. All are fully accomplished for us by the one great sacrifice on Calvary, and the benefits become ours when with true penitence we turn to Him. We may actually have the forgiveness and be without the joy because we do not rest on the assurance of His infallible word, for joy and peace come only by believing (Rom. xv, 13). If we do not acknowledge our sin and seek to cover our iniquity we will be in as bad a case as was David (verses 3-5), but if we confess our sins He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness (I John i, 9). The riches of His grace in this psalm are so exceedingly abundant that the little we can call attention to seems so poor we can only pray that the reader may by the Spirit see the ocean of fullness that is here. Eph. i, 6, 7, are very precious words to me, beginning and ending with grace and including acceptance, redemption and forgiveness. The truly godly can never perish, but they may wander and need restoration (verse 6; I, 12; John x, 28).

How rich is verse 7, his hiding place, our life hid with Christ in God, in God and in Christ! (Col. iii, 3; I Thess. i, 1; II Cor. xii, 2). My strong habitation, my dwelling place (Ps. lxxi, 3; xc, 1)—how absolutely safe, preserved from trouble, for, though we must have tribulation, we need not be troubled, and no real evil can befall us (John xvi, 33; xiv, 1). He may let us go to the furnace or the lion's den, but we shall come out without any harm whatever. There will be songs of deliverance, for God is unto us a God of deliverances (Ps. lxxviii, 20, R. V.). The word "rejoice," used only in the Psalms and in Eph. iii, always suggests that we praise and meditate. Its use here in verses 4, 5, 7, is most suggestive. When there is no peace consider why: when forgiven consider how great His grace, and always meditate upon Him as our refuge.

Inasmuch as "it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps" (Jer. x, 23), it becomes us ever to seek from the Lord our God, with all sincerity, the way wherein we may walk and the thing that we may do (Jer. xli, 3; Ps. cxlvi, 8). In verse 8 of our lesson and in xxxi, 21; Ex. xxiii, 20, we have the assurance of sure guidance if only we are meek enough to be guided (Ps. xlv, 9). There are horses which can be guided by the faintest whisper, and there are mules which sometimes seem more intelligent than their drivers, but those referred to in verse 9 are without understanding, and there are many such both among horses, mules and men. All such will find sorrow enough (verse 10), but to the trusting and obedient it will be always mercy, and verse 10, with xxxiii, 1, may be their constant experience. When we consider the Lord and His grace and His glory there is always abundant cause for the upright in heart to be glad and rejoice and shout for joy.

BENJAMIN D. MOSSER WEDS YOUNG ARDMORE GIRL

Announcement has been received here of the marriage at Ardmore Wednesday, June 9, of Miss Florence Willets Mosford to Benjamin Duncan Mosser. Mr. Mosser is a former resident of Curwensville, where his father was pastor of the Methodist church. He is well known in Clearfield.

"All Cats look grey—at Night!"

"JUST Rubber and Canvas—pumped full of air!" So thinks the Tire User who buys Pneumatics "Blind," without comparison after thorough investigation. So thinks the Car Owner who buys from the Cut Price Dealer, the "just as good" Tire on which that Dealer quotes him the biggest discount of a Price List specially geared up for that purpose. So thinks the Man who buys the all average nearly half of his money's worth of running Expense, when it is all his own one-fourth, if he would only "look his head" and, once for all, have the Tire Game.

There are two classes of Car Owners who buy tires. One class buys tires on credit, and the other class buys tires on cash. The latter class of Car Owners is apt to conclude offhand (from his own experience) that all tires must be "cheap" and "unsatisfactory."

KAISER RECEIVES SECOND AMERICAN NOTE AT FRONT

Unaccompanied by Comment from Foreign Office, Note Being Considered

Friendly Tone of President's Second Message Causes Undisguised Pleasure—All Comment Guarded Against

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Berlin, June 12.—The second American note which was received by Herr von Jagow late yesterday has been translated and rushed to the kaiser at the battle front. No statement or expression of any kind accompanied the note, it being the kaiser's expressed wish that it be presented to him without comment in order that he may view the new situation uninfluenced by the opinions of his advisers.

The kaiser has displaced all other business for the time being, and is devoting himself to the American note. After he completes his study of it he will return it to the foreign office with his comment, following which a tentative reply will be formed. This also will be sent to the battle headquarters of the kaiser.

In official circles here great care is exercised to reserve all comment on the new note, although it is known that the friendly tone of the note, unexpected because of Bryan's refusal to sign it, caused general pleasure. It is also known that Bryan's resignation is not considered here as a serious menace to the situation, and that the situation in regard to the Lusitania affair is in no way changed.

Twilight Leaguers In Fast Game Yesterday

At the park last evening the Penn Public Service team, the "Athletes," of the Twilight League, started on their way toward first place when they defeated the strong West Side team by the large score of 14 to 10. Spence, Peters and Dunlap composed the winning battery while the West side had Krebs and Kelly. The electric starters had ten hits to their credit, four of which were made by Gilliland whose playing was the feature of the game.

What looked like certain defeat was changed to victory at the East End ground last evening when the Third Ward Hose team won from the Bartons in the last inning by the low score of 4 to 3. Until the fifth inning the score was 3-0 in favor of the Bartons.

The standing of the teams will not be published until after the meeting of the officers and managers of the league which will be held next Friday evening.

ST. FRANCIS HIGH TO HOLD EXERCISES

Three Graduates Will Receive Diplomas Sunday Afternoon

The Commencement exercises of the St. Francis high school will be held on Sunday evening, June 13, in the St. Francis church at 7:30. The exercises will be followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The two graduates in the academic course in this year's class are Miss Catherine Roessner and Raymond Lansberry. Miss Anna Walsh will graduate from the commercial department.

On Thursday evening, the alumni association will hold their annual banquet at the hotel Dimeling. There are nearly fifty members in the association.

The class of 1916 will entertain on Friday evening for the class of 1915 and several other guests, at a dance which will be held on the fifth floor of the Leitzinger Bros. store.

The school term which closed yesterday, was one of the most successful in the history of the St. Francis school.

CHILDREN'S DAY TO BE CELEBRATED IN ALL CHURCHES HERE

Young Folks to Give Interesting Programs at Evening Services Held for Them

Custom Originated to Interest Young People in the Services and Doctrines of the Churches Finds Support Among Clearfield's Youth.

Children's Day originated to interest young people in the services and doctrines of the church, in an effort to draw from their ranks men who will be educated for the pulpit, is to be generally celebrated here tomorrow. A collection is taken, which is used in the Presbyterian church for establishing Sabbath school missions, and in the Methodist church is set aside to use in aiding young men from the Sunday school in completing an education for the ministry. The money is invested in a fund and the interest only is used, thus providing a perpetual source of revenue.

Presbyterian
In the Presbyterian church Sunday the whole morning will be given over to the Children's Day exercises. Sabbath school session will begin at 10:00. The Sabbath schools will meet in the school rooms and march into the church in a body at 10:30. Every member is urged to be present at 10:30 in order to join the march. This is the first time this plan has been tried for several years.

Part of the meeting will be given over to the graduating exercises of the primary and junior departments and the granting of diplomas. The baptism of children will take place at this service and all seven year old children of the Sabbath school who have been baptised will receive a gift from the school of a fine bible. There are 16 of these this year. The offering will be for Sunday school missions.

The exercises will be by the primary and junior departments and will consist largely of singing. The pastor will preach one of the series of sermons on "The Building of Character" at the regular evening service.

Lutheran
The services at the Lutheran church next Sunday will be as follows: Sunday school at 9:15 a. m.; preaching service at 10:30 a. m.; Christian Endeavor 6:30 p. m. and preaching service at 7:30. The Children's Day exercises which were to be held this Sunday have been postponed until next Sunday.

Episcopal
Episcopal church will have Sunday school at 9:30 a. m., morning prayer at 10:45, and evening worship at 7:30 p. m.

West Side Methodist
The West Side Methodist church will have the regular Sunday school session in the morning at 9:30 and at the preaching service at 10:30 the pastor will preach a special sermon for children. Baptism and reception of members at 10:45. In the evening instead of the usual preaching service, a program, which is given by the children.

BRYAN IN APPEAL TO GERMANS

Former Secretary Asks Them to Help to Keep Peace

STAND BY PRESIDENT

Issues Note to German-Americans in Which They Are Appealed to

(SPECIAL TO THE PROGRESS)
Washington, June 12.—William Jennings Bryan late night issued an appeal addressed to "German-Americans," urging them to aid in maintaining peace between the United States and the Fatherland by exerting their influence with the German government to persuade it not to take any steps that would lead in the direction of war.

With this statement Mr. Bryan expects to end for the present his efforts to lay before the public the situation which caused him to resign the portfolio of secretary of state.

Referring to German-Americans as "fellow citizens in whose patriotism I have entire confidence," Mr. Bryan, besides asking them to use their influence with the German government, urged:

That they forget, never to be recalled, any suspicion of lack of neutrality of friendship toward the German people on the part of the president of the United States.

That they should not attempt to connect negotiations between the United States and Germany with those between the United States and Great Britain because "the cases are different."

That Germany should acquiesce in demands that have been made by the United States without condition trusting the "United States to deal justly with her in the consideration of any changes she may propose in the international rules that govern the taking of prizes," growing out of submarine warfare.

President Unjustly Criticized
Mr. Bryan declared that President Wilson had been unjustly criticised by partisans of both sides in the European conflict; expressed confidence that German-Americans would stand by their adopted country in case of war between the United States and Germany; maintained that killing of innocent women and children, either by drowning or starving, could not be justified, and suggested a change in the shipping laws to exclude passengers from ships carrying contraband or ammunition.

Children and young people will take place. The program is given below. Class service, Tuesday 7:45 and prayer service Wednesday at 7:45.

Opening song, choir; recitation, Alice Fleming; exercise, "Our Best Friend"; recitation, Hazel Mitchell; song, choir; exercise, "Our Church"; recitations, Blair Shaw, Lea Wallace; exercise, "A Bunch of Candy"; primary song; exercise, "He Must Be Very Good"; recitations, Myrtle Mitchell, Clara McLaughlin; Solo, Arnold Lansberry.

Exercise, "The Seven Steps"; junior song; recitation, Fanny Butler; solo, Herbert McLaughlin; recitation, Jean Hoin; exercise, "The Gifts of Graciousness"; song, choir; recitation, Earl Shaw; pantomime, "Let the Lower Lights be Burning"; address pastor; song, choir; recitation Naima Shaw; closing song, choir.

Eleventh Street Methodist
Children's Day services will be held at the East End Methodist church, Sunday after next. Tomorrow Brotherhood will meet at 9:45 a. m., reception of members and baptism at the preaching service at 10:30 a. m. Sunday school at 2:00 p. m. Epworth League at 6:45, and evening worship at 7:30 the theme of which is "The Grace of being Dependable."

WASHINGTON JUNE BRIDES

Washington, June 12.—Society editors are today noting an unusual large crop of capital June brides. Deception here of many officials, congressmen and diplomats because of the war situation, has increased the number of June weddings originally planned for Newport or other cool resort. Some are staying "on the job," too, and causing unusual summer activity.

RED MEN CONCLUDE STATE CONVENTION

A Monster Parade at DuBois Thursday Feature of Week

The state Red Men's convention which was held in DuBois this week is over. With fine weather all week not a serious hitch occurred to mar the excellent program. The big day of the week was Thursday when the largest crowd was present that has visited DuBois in many years was present. Fifteen thousand strangers were estimated as being within the city on that day. The parade which was as fine as any ever seen there, had in line at least 3,000 people including tribes from all parts of the state with their bands. It was a brilliant sight to view the parade which extended from East DuBois avenue and first street to the B. & P. station with the paraders garbed in their highly colored and ornamented costumes. Plenty of music was furnished, there being eleven bands in line.

In the lead of the parade were 24 automobiles containing Burgess Haag, members of the council, the police, chiefs, past sachems, Daughters of Pocahontas, an representatives to the Grand Lodge.

Snow Shoe to Get Penn Public Power

Snow Shoe is soon to get its electrical power from the power house at Philipsburg the same as Clearfield does now. At present Snowshoe has her own power house. It is not a very satisfactory one because it is composed mostly of second hand machinery and as there are being several new mines opened up there which promise to be very large and use electrical power for transportation it is thought advisable to have something more substantial to fall back on for what power they may need. The Penn Public Service Co. plant at Philipsburg is thoroughly capable of supplying any amount of power that may be desired as they have recently improved the plant by putting in several new turbine generators.

Italian is Suspected of Wrecking Gorman House

Suspected of having had a part in the dynamiting of the H. S. Gorman home near New Washington a week ago, Joe Mills, an unaturalized Italian of that place was brought to Clearfield today under arrest by state patrolman Edward J. Hickey, of Greensboro.

Mills is charged with having made threats against James Gorman, a son of H. S. Gorman. When arrested he had on him a revolver for which he was fined for carrying.

A Second Operation

John Flegal the son of H. J. Flegal is to be taken to the hospital Sunday for an operation for adhesion of the intestines. The young man has been suffering with this since he was operated on for appendicitis.

New Fire Alarm Horn Is Heard in Ridgeway

The new fire alarm sounded for the first time this morning at 8:40, and made everybody in town jump. Those people who laid in bed longer than they should have, were awakened with a start from their peaceful slumbers by the hideous noise. The company who is putting the alarm system in says that it can be heard eight miles. It will be a surprise to everybody to know that it can be heard three times this far. When it sounded for the first time this morning the sound was heard in Ridgeway which is 25 miles from here as the crow flies. Some alarm of A. Anstadt, manager of the Bell telephone company at Ridgeway, who was talking to the local manager, Mr. Hinkle, at the time heard it very distinctly, in fact so distinctly that conversation had to be suspended for the time being.

London, June 12.—The Russian army in the east continues its offensive smash against the entire Austro-German front along the Dnieper river. Petrograd dispatches declare General Makensen's forces are being rolled back along the river, with terrible losses.

In the battle at Octynia yesterday the Russians captured 1000 prisoners. In Thursday's battle between the Teutonic allies lost more than half their number in an effort to cross the Dnieper at that point. A force of forty thousand made the desperate attack, and more than half of them were killed or wounded.

These Russian successes are causing much gratification here in view of the apprehension felt a few days ago that shortage of ammunition in the Russian armies might cause a disastrous series of reverses.

WOODLAND WOMEN ORGANIZE A CLUB

The Woman's Club of Clearfield Assist New Organization

The Woman's club of Clearfield represented by Mrs. E. Orcutt, Mrs. George Reed, president, Mrs. Charles Kurtz, secretary, Mrs. Clark Thayer, Mrs. Harry Wallace, and Mrs. George Zerfoss, last night met in the United Brethren church at Woodland a large number of the women of Woodland for the purpose of discussing and organizing a women's club for Woodland. The women of Woodland were interested in the work of the Clearfield organization as reviewed by Mrs. Reed, who gave a brief synopsis of the work of the club. The movement resulted in the election of the following officers for the Woodland organization. Mrs. Hartman, president, Miss Mame Lansberry, first vice president, Mrs. J. T. Pickles second vice president, Miss Grace Gingery secretary, and Miss Mabel Young treasurer. After this there were discussions as to how to make the Women's club most efficient and useful in the town. Picnic work and child welfare work as the proposed line of work for the summer were topics suggested for discussion at the next meeting.

The heartiest co-operation was manifested by the substantial financial basis the club was placed on by the contribution of a generous Clearfield friend, as well as a check for $100 from the Harrison-Walker Refractory Co.

PRETTY WEDDING AT ST. FRANCIS CHURCH

Moore-Lee Nuptials Take Place This Morning—Couple Leave

St. Francis paragon was the scene of a very pretty wedding this morning at 7:30 o'clock when Augustus L. Moore and Miss Lillie Bertram Lee, daughter of A. W. Lee, were united in marriage by Father M. A. Ryan. B. Leslie Wallace, a brother in law of the groom acted as best man and Miss Mary Lee was the bride's maid.

The bride, who is a beautiful and accomplished young woman, wore a sand colored corduroy traveling suit and carried a bouquet of orchids.

There were present the immediate families and relatives.

After a sumptuous wedding breakfast, the happy couple left in an automobile for Tyrone from where they took a train for eastern cities.

Mr. Moore has been engaged in the insurance business here for a number of years being a partner with John B. McGrath.

(BY UNITED PRESS)

London, June 12.—Along the Austro-Italian frontier the principal theatre is now centered about Goritz, where a sanguinary struggle is being waged. The Italians are within six miles of the city, upon which they are gradually forcing back the Austrians. The hardest fighting is taking place to the eastward of the city, and the Italian commander has reported that he will invest it within a few days.

WE WILL MISS HIM

The cherry little masterpieces of philosophy which greeted you every evening at the head of this column will appear no more, for their author has resigned the editorship of The Progress to accept an editorial post of larger promise and one which will offer him a wider field.

Mr. Bixler closes two years of service with this paper with the satisfaction of having developed out of nothing what is conceded to be one of the best "small town" newspapers in Pennsylvania. He will be missed by a circle of admirers which has ever widened as the sterling quality of his work impressed itself upon the people of this community. He will be missed by another circle which felt the sting of his pen. They are his friends, too, for a long honorable and efficient life, not unmingled with the philosopher which featured his writing, broadened the man, and he wasted none of his energies in personal hatred.

The office will miss Mr. Bixler, and from "devil" to his successor the force joins in wishing him every success in his new surroundings.

AMERICANIZATION DAY

Over fifty mayors of our largest cities have appointed mayor's committees as part of the National movement to make the Fourth of July, 1915, "Americanization Day."

"Americanization Day" is a patriotic call to all citizens, American-born and foreign-born alike, adults and children, to rally to American ideals, purposes, and common interests of many peoples united into one nation.

These mayor's committees represent the city government, naturalization officials, boards of education, city clubs, women's patriotic and civic organizations, social agencies, patriotic societies, and benevolent and fraternal organizations of foreign-born residents. These committees are arranging citizenship receptions for newly naturalized citizens and a national Americanization day committee is assisting these mayor's committees.

Among the features for this occasion already adopted by various cities is the giving of special recognition to the new citizens by having special admission tickets for them and their families so that, on entering the auditorium, they will be ushered to a special, raised platform on the stage. After American national airs have been rendered by a band, orchestra, or singing societies, the pledge of allegiance will be recited in unison as the American flag is unfurled and the entire audience stands and salutes the colors. Several cities are planning pagants or tableaux presenting in vivid form American history; moving-picture films like "Uncle Sam at Work" will be shown.

Among the things the speakers on this occasion will emphasize are: That every foreign-speaking person in America should learn English by attending the public schools, because the English language is the master key to American opportunities and life, and the first step to real citizenship; that every illiterate immigrant should learn to read and write, so that he can read American newspapers; and attend personally to his business matters; and that adults and children, native and foreign born be given civic training in both evening and day schools, so that every one in our country will understand the functions of our government, the principles of democracy and for what America stands.

New York and St. Louis, through their public schools, have planned to have a special civic lesson on Flag Day, June 14, for the school children. These children will learn from their teachers the history of the American flag, what it represents and the "Declaration of Independence" as a "Declaration of Citizenship" will be explained. Full reports of the local citizenship reception on the Fourth of July will be given and each child will be requested to invite his parents to take them to the Americanization day celebration.

The schools of various opportunities, not heretofore offered, to cooperate with naturalization officials, mayor's committees, and others and should seek to place school facilities at their disposal to make the coming Fourth of July not only a celebration of our independence, but a day for strengthening the American spirit of nationality and uniting all classes, creeds, and races into one intelligent democracy.

BRYAN AS AN INCUBUS

President Wilson and the country are to be congratulated upon having gotten rid of William Jennings Bryan, if even temporarily. Bryan has been an incubus to the present administration ever since he assumed the responsible position as secretary of state. It was evident soon after Bryan entered upon the duties of the office tendered him by the president that he expected to dominate Mr. Wilson.

William Jennings Bryan is a superficial man. He has always advocated policies which were inimical to the best interests of the country. From the enunciation of his free silver shibboleth to his present demand that the United States shall submit to seeing her citizens murdered on the high seas on the plea that peace at any price is preferable to the right of the American people that they shall be permitted to sail on the high seas in safety Bryan has displayed a shallow nature.

Bryan has always gloried in the spectacular. As a vaudeville actor he would have been a great success. His refusal to sign the American note to Germany informing that country that the slaughter of American citizens by German submarines is in keeping with the Bryan character. He probably imagined that by opposing the president he would gain the plaudits of the peace at any price residents of this country, but he will find that every American who is not a coward and poltroon is back of the president in his avowed purpose to hold Germany to a strict accountability for the lives of American citizens menaced or lost through further undersea piracy.

Many Patriotic Italians In the Town of Aquileia

(SPECIAL TO THE PROGRESS)

Washington, D. C. June 12.—Aquileia, one of the first towns captured by the Italians in their storm across the Austrian borders at the head of the Adriatic stands foremost among the Austrian Italian-speaking possessions in the sentimental attachment of the patriotic sons of Italy. Why the Italian takes so deep an interest in this decaying little frontier village is told in a statement on war geography, recently prepared by the National Geographic Society. This statement reads:

"Aquileia, situated six miles back from the Adriatic Sea, at the edge of the lagoons, in the Austrian province of Gorz and Gradisca, was once a great and flourishing seaport, at one time ranking as the second city of Italy. It was in those days, one of the mightiest bulwarks of the Roman Empire against the pressing hordes of outside barbarians, a city of 'proud walls and wide bespoken splendor.' As late as the end of the 4th century, Ausonius placed it ninth on the list of the great cities of the earth.

"Today, Aquileia is a mean poverty-stricken, dwindling fishing village, with a few thousand inhabitants. The wonderful structures of its heyday have served for centuries as stone quarries, and nothing now remains of their fabulous splendor. Aquileia, regal city of the Empire, and, later, great seaport and industrial city, has vanished, in all likelihood, for good. There remains from its golden days merely a heterogeneous mass of relics, statues, mosaics, columns, friezes, from its parks and buildings; lamps from its once famous factories; besides many homely survivals and nick-nacks.

"Trieste, the great seaport of today, is about 25 miles distant to the south-west. All the marks of prosperity and importance of Aquileia have fled to Trieste, in the east, and to Venice, in the west. The once-busy harbor is choked with silt and drifting dunes, while rafts and fishing boats are almost the only craft that now thread the varying channels. The modern village, counting 2,800 people, is unhealthy on account of its rice fields; is neglected and forgotten.

"Aquileia is a grave of past achievement, and a much weathered monument to the world of the Roman Age. Its museum is rich in trophies of Roman times, and its ancient cathedral and the remains of the Patriarch's palace are its most eloquent, concrete memories. Aquileia, as is much of the northern and western coast of the Adriatic, is a rich field for archeologists and antiquarians.

"The city is said to have been colonized by the Romans as a frontier fortress against the Celts in 183 B. C. In 168 A. D. Marcus Aurelius made it one of the strongest fortified positions in the Empire. During Hadrian's reign, its population reached the 500,000 mark. Attila destroyed the city in 425 A. D., and it never recovered its greatness. Aquileia was great and strong only throughout its Roman history, when, during its prime, it ranked immediately after the Eternal City itself. Its fortunes were those of the Roman world; and modern Italy, looking back over the Gulf of centuries, feels itself, not only the descendant, but also the heir of Latin Rome."

LAUGH WITH THE MORNING LAUGHTER

Laugh with the morning laughter, sing with the morning songs; Dance to the morning spirit, dear heart, lingering long.
There's nothing true in the shadows, And naught worth while but sun; Laugh with the morning laughter, And so shall the shadows run.

A little bit of trouble, a little bit of the care, And then away with the bubble, laugh with the morning air.
Laugh with the sweetest laughter That rings in the world of light; There is no joy in the shadows, There is no hope in the night.

Away with the tears and terror on the face, and the smile and glow, Laugh with the morning laughter, and sing with the morning sea.
Light shall the heart be ever, That into the heart of the sea, Settles the song of the morning, Clinging to the heart of the sea.

Shade, a shadow upon the face, Do not be sad and do not weep, Heine's an hour, but he's not here, Heine's partner, he's not here, Duet of the two voices, No, the part is not the same, Hush, you, wagon to a stop, Good-bye, good-bye, good-bye.

PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

MUST BEGIN AT THE BOTTOM

First Thing to Do is to Improve Bad Dirt Roads—Money Required is Astonishingly Small.

The dirt roads are the real highways of commerce. Without them you would have little use for macadam roads or other highways of like character. In the road fabric we must begin at the bottom. As the dirt roads are improved year by year by process of evolution, when necessity requires a certain percentage of them will become trunk lines and be converted into rock, macadam, concrete or roads of like character. This will come about when the betterment of the dirt roads has so improved agricultural and other communities through which they pass that the wealth and population and commerce justify it.

We cannot make all the roads rock, macadam or concrete roads, but we can make all our bad dirt roads good dirt roads. We can make the rock, macadam or concrete roads in certain sections and communities where country growth, wealth, population and volume of heavy traffic demand and justify it. The amount of money really required to convert a bad dirt road into a good dirt road by the use of modern road equipment is astonishingly small.

Where the roads from the farm to the railway station are partly bad dirt roads, partly good dirt roads and partly rock, concrete or macadam roads, the farmer must gauge his load not by the good dirt road, not by the good macadam road over which he passes a part of the distance, but by the bad dirt road he must travel. What we should do is to improve the road, gauging the load the producer must haul. If he has to struggle with bad dirt roads, he is the man we wish to serve. These roads are the arteries of the commerce of the soil, and our very life, credit, prosperity, education, church and future interests depend upon them.

The closer we place the producer to the markets the lower will be our cost of living. The roads which serve the producers today are the dirt roads, roads of the people, roads reaching every community, and 50 years from now the great majority of the roads serving the producers will still be dirt roads. We must deal with things real, not ideal.—Gov. Major of Missouri.

VALUE OF BETTER HIGHWAYS

Man Looking for Location is Likely to Judge Neighborhood by Kind of Roads it Maintains.

Are you doing anything for good roads? Is your community doing anything? Is your county doing anything to the value of rock roads, roads of a permanent type? If you are a farmer you ought to be able to realize the value of better highways more keenly than any other citizen.

It is a fact that the chance visitor and the man who is looking for a location are likely to judge a neighborhood or a region by the kind of highways it maintains. Stretches of mud holes blast a community's reputation. Bad roads kill church life and choke education. Churches and schools are dependent very markedly upon good roads. Where the roads are stretches of mud in winter and dust and old ruts in summer, neither schools nor churches may flourish.

When you find a farmer who opposes good roads and fights a reasonable taxation for building better highways you will find a man who is a drawback to his community.

The Split-Log Drag. The splitting drag has contributed more toward the economic maintenance of public highways than any implement of modern usage. It does not require special acts of the legislature, bond issues, nor expensive educational campaigns to make it available as usually precedes construction work.

What Are They Trying to Prove?

The liquor interests are sitting on
the house-tops and yelling from dawn
to daylight that Kansas shows up badly
in the matter of savings banks deposits.

It does; there are very few savings banks in Kansas.

But what are these people trying to prove? That Kansas is hard up for money and has but little wealth?

If so, why do they not state the
fact, just revealed by a Census Bulletin, that Kansas has $300 per capita
in excess of the per capita wealth of any other state in the Union?

Kansas has too many dandelions for
her own good, which we presume
proves that her people are given to insanity. They say that her house-dogs are greatly troubled by fleas,

which we presume is sure evidence
that the people of the license state
of Indiana are much less given to divorce. The trees in Topeka are badly
troubled with canker-worms, which establishes beyond the least doubt that Kansas people don't go to church.

The beer and whisky makers seem
to be afflicted with the firm conviction
that the people of the United States are all fools. At least, this appears to be the case when they advance their arguments against prohibition in Kansas.

Look the Question in the Eye
Let us look this question squarely
in the eye.

Does the liquor traffic pay the
United States?

Does it pay financially?

Does it pay commercially?

Does it pay industrially?

Does it pay physically?

Does it pay mentally?

Does it pay morally?

What single good thing can be said
for the trade in liquors or the habit
of drinking alcohol?

Nothing?

Then why not kill the traffic without further delay?

If we cannot kill it let us hang our heads in bitter humiliation, for it is greater than we.

If we can kill it then in God's name
let us do it!

Is Beer Responsible For the Lusitania?

The German, as we know him, is not a barbarian. He doesn't lust after the blood of women and babies. He is usually a kindly fellow of much intelligence.

But he has one grave fault, and that is an inability to understand his
fellowmen, a lack of mental facility,
a lack of power to adapt himself to
people and circumstances.

Why is this?

Psychologists tell us that the drinking of much beer has exactly this effect upon the mental process.

The men who are in control of the German government fail to see the Lusitania incident as we see it. If,
for long generations, meat and malt
had not preyed upon their brains, is it not possible that they might have added to their other good qualities the ability to judge from stand-
points other than their own?

The English are making their
brains in beer and we are soaking
our brains in beer. May we not expect the same result?

THE KITCHEN
CABINET

Though you have everything you like,
and richer come to you
You still may be unhappy, son you'll find that this is true
But you can fill your days with joy get this, it isn't false.
The way to be real happy, is to like the things you have.

ORANGE DISHES.

Oranges are adapted to many dishes,
as well as drinks; they make good
soup, puddings, salads
and desserts, not to mention cakes and cake
fillings. Oranges sliced
and sprinkled with sugar are a delicious sauce
to serve with cake and
will thus take the place
of a dessert.

Combined with stale cake and custard oranges form a most delicious
dessert.
Orangeade.—Take two cupsful of
orange juice, add 1½ cupsful of sugar,
one cupful of strained cranberry sauce
and two quarts of water. Boil the sugar and water together for five minutes, then cool and add the strained
juice. Garnish the glass with a thin
slice of orange or a bit of the peel
hung on the edge of the glass.

Orange Puffs.—Take a cupful of flour, and a half cupful of sugar, a
half cupful of milk; sift with the flour
a teaspoonful of baking powder with
a half teaspoonful of salt, add one
egg, beaten, add one tablespoonful of melted butter, flavor with the grated
rind of an orange. Steam in buttered cups 25 minutes and serve with orange sauce.

Orange Sauce.—The juice of two oranges, one cup of boiling water, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, two tea-
spoonfuls of cornstarch, four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Mix the sugar
and cornstarch and add the water,
cook until the starch is well cooked;
add a tablespoonful of butter and the
orange juice with a little grated rind.

Orange Salad.—Serve neat slices of orange on lettuce with a dressing of oil and vinegar. This is especially good with game. Another nice way
to serve it is in overlapping slices on
a long salad dish garnished with candied cherries. Oranges and grapes
with a bit of pineapple is another fine
combination for a fruit salad. Sponge
cake flavored with orange and served
with an orange filling, then frosted
with an icing flavored with lemon
juice and orange rind is a delicious
dessert.

THREE GOVERNORS WHO WERE ONCE EDUCATORS

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Harrisburg, June 12.—Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris, of Michigan, was a guest of Governor Martin G.
Brumbaugh, of Pennsylvania, a few days ago. The two are friends of years standing, and Governor Brumbaugh gave an informal dinner at the executive mansion here in honor of Governor Ferris. One of the guests was A. W. Powell, auditor general of Pennsylvania, and he called to the attention of the two governors an interesting coincidence.

"Twenty years ago when I was assistant superintendent of schools in Westmoreland county," he said,
"we had an institute which was addressed at one session by Martin G. Brumbaugh, Woodbridge N. Ferris and Clark White. These three educators are now governors of contiguous states—Brumbaugh in Pennsylvania, White in Ohio and Ferris in Michigan. The education in political life seems to be quite one factor."

London.—There is a total of 2,662 hospitals for wounded soldiers in England, Ireland and Wales with 178,481
beds, according to an estimate made
public today.

London.—An army chaplain acting as censor for soldier letters in France discovered that one "Tommy" wrote same story of love to each.

London.—Now comes war names for

is the Hymn of Hate and Lord Michael's horse named "Tucky is now named "Pucky Lodge."

You recall—the captain of a mine
